

PRODIGY P TRAINING

Tackling African Aviation Challenges!

“Air transport is not only a transportation means but it is [also] an economic enabler and driver of national and economic development. However, in order to further develop aviation human capacity is a key. As we know there is a gap between the number of professionals sought and the training capacity in particular in Africa”

ICAO Secretary General Dr. Fang Liu

Prodigy Training intends to tackle the following African Challenges:

- > Exodus of Skilled Manpower
- > Insufficient Training Capacity
- > Inadequate Regulatory Framework
- > High costs of Training
- > Non Confrmity to SARPS for many states
- > Poor state-to-state coordination...

Stakeholders Association

Prodigy Training intents to collaborate with the following stakeholders association to provide world-class training to a diverse range of customers.

and many more...

Expected Strategic Advantages

- > First and Only Independent Airline Training Centre in West and Central Africa
- > Implementation in COTE D'IVOIRE holding one of the biggest aviation market opportunity in Africa
- > International Strategic partnership with extensive expertise in ATO Management
- > Development of Ab-initio pilot trainings with airlines in partnership with financial institutions
- > Development of training solutions in partnership with AFRAA (African Airlines Association)
- > Partnership with aviation management prestigious universities.

